Young Contents Co.,Ltd is mainly distributing Korean contents worldwide. And also producing some high-quality K-contents.

Y&C's CEO, Lee Hyo-young had worked for KBS Media for more than 26 years as a head of Global Marketing Department. And then, after having worked as a CEO for Hunus Entertainment which is a drama production & management company for 2 years, then He established his own company Young&Contents.

During his working for KBS Media, He was one of the most distinguished contributors to the export of Korean contents that led the distribution of numerous dramas such as "Winter Sonata," "Full House," and "Boys Over Flowers" to global markets. Currently, He runs Young & Contents, a global distributor specializing in Korean wave contents, and is responsible for the spread of Korean wave contents to worldwide.

After He got independent, He has been selling a lot of Korean dramas to many countries, Y&C is now distributing AI dramas and some brand-new dramas <Miss Granny>, <Dog Knows Everything>, <Perfect Marriage Revenge>, <Missing Crown Prince>, etc., including Korean legendary dramas <Boys over Flowers>, <Playful Kiss>, <Naail's Cantabile>, and also selling OTT dramas <The Man's Voice>, <First Love>, <I Kill U>, <First Love> etc. And Y&C is also selling Korean IPs (Formats or Remake Rights) & K-pop Music & Fanmeeting, concerts, room-escape game's rights worldwide.

Mr. Lee has very decent & strong relationships with many TV stations & drama productions. So Young&Contents is one of the most credible distributor based on CEO Mr. Lee's long-term career & broad networks. And Y&C started to join some co-productions of Korean dramas & etc on the basis of his distribution & business know-hows.

Y&C is an expecting company that will be rapidly growing to a global big contents group. We hope that we can make a long-term partnership and a win-win relationship in the near future.

The drama begins with eighteen-years-old boy and his families descending through the countryside. Wanting to tell the story with the daily life and the events of the boy who was a typical city child who was accustomed to urban life and the family in a new environment.

On February 7, KBS's upcoming drama "Andante" revealed a glimpse of EXO's Kai at the first shooting for the drama back in the middle of January. In the images, Kai has perfectly changed into the 18-year-old high school student Si Kyung. His face seems to reflect some sort of worry or fear, making fans wonder how the drama will unfold.

On the first day of filming, Kai lightened up the mood with a smooth smile and enthusiastic attitude. Even the director was surprised by his dedication when he saw that Kai had prepared various voice tones for even the simplest scenes. Kai went from shy to innocent depending on the scene, portraying the complicated mind of a high school student.

A source from the production team complimented Kai, saying, "Despite the cold weather and harsh schedule, Kai is continuing to film optimistically, showing his professional attitude. His character will be facing drastic changes later in the drama, so there is still much more that Kai will be able to show us. Please look forward to it."

Meanwhile, "Andante" is a pre-produced drama that shares the story of Si Kyung, a kid from the city who transfers to a high school in the countryside. As he takes on various unfamiliar experiences, he grows and learns about the true meaning of life and love. Stay tuned for more updates on the drama!

William J. Spencer (Pierre Deporte) is a young British aristocrat in the year 1640 with a fascination for East Asian art, languages, and culture. He counts as his closest friend the young somewhat mercenary Japanese merchantman Yan. William is swindled by a shady merchant into believing that a plain porcelain chamber pot is a mystical artifact; he then sails off to Nagasaki in order to open the "aquatic silk road" between Japan and England, but mostly to escape his creepy and overbearing mother and an arranged marriage. Yan is promised a handsome reward if he can drag her son back in time for the wedding and hightails it after his "friend."

Meanwhile, the Joseon Kingdom is operating under a foreign policy that strictly prohibits trade with Westerners, garnering the nickname "the hermit kingdom." Just south of the Korean mainland lies the island of Jeju, which at this point in history is known as Tamra. The people who live on the island derive their livelihoods by diving for abalone, cultivating a large area of persimmon orchards, and basic subsistence farming; much of what they produce is tithed to the King through a corrupt local government.

Park Gyu (Im Joo-hwan) arrives from Hanyang (the historical name for Seoul) on a secret mission from the King to uncover corruption, embezzlement, and whatever else he may find on Tamra. However, his cover story leads to a tangle of complications for him: used to being doted on as an aristocratic scholar and high government official, he is sent to Tamra on the pretense of having been at the center of a sexual harassment scandal for which he has been permanently banished to the island, where he will have to work for a local family despite not being used to manual labor.

Sung Mi-soo (Uee) is a cheerful, humble country girl from Gangwon Province. She comes from a poor family, and her mother used to work as a caddy. With her bright personality and determined efforts, Mi-soo is striving to become a professional golf player.

On the other hand, Min Hae-ryung (Lee Da-hee) is an elite athlete who has been groomed for professional golf since a young age. Placed in the best environment to play golf, Hae-ryung's emotions are always controlled and she has a deep emotional wound inside of her.

These two girls from different backgrounds share the same dream of being the next top golfer, a dream that leads them to former pro golfer John Lee (Lee Yong-woo).

John Lee was the first Korean to win a PGA title. His background was a mystery other than the fact that he was an adoptee. Aside from golf, he also excelled in the Afro-Brazilian dance/martial arts style known as capoeira. But even though he found success by winning the PGA title, John Lee stopped playing golf to become a golf course tester. John Lee agrees to lead Mi-soo and Hae-ryung into becoming the next queens of golf like Se Ri Pak, Michelle Wie, Jiyai Shin, and Eun-Hee Ji.

Shinhwa Group is shown to be one of South Korea's largest conglomerates and is headed by the strictly arrogant Kang Hee-soo. Her son Gu Jun-pyo (Lee Min-ho) is the leader of F4, the most popular and powerful group of boys at the prestigious Shinhwa High School. Yoon Ji-hu (Kim Hyun-Joong), So Yi-jung, and Song Woo-bin - Gu Jun-pyo's friends and rich heirs in their own right - are all members of the group. When F4 bullies a boy to the verge of suicide, the poor but vivacious Geum Jan-di (Ku Hye-sun) saves his life and receives a swimming scholarship to attend the High School. Geum Jan-di's family runs a dry cleaning business and she lives in a small home with her parents, Geum Il-bong and Na Gong-joo, and her younger brother Geum Kang-san.

Immediately, Geum Jan-di dislikes her wealthy classmates and is disgusted by the obsession surrounding the F4 boys. Irked by her strong-headed nature, Gu Jun-pyo singles out Geum Jan-di to bully but she stands up to him and he begins to fall in love with her. Meanwhile, Geum Jan-di develops feelings for Yoon Ji-hu. She soon discovers that Yoon Ji-hu fosters a one-sided love for Min Seo-hyun, a successful model and his childhood friend.

Yoo-Jin (Joo Won) is a university student majoring in piano. He has a world famous pianist father, exceptional music talent and attractive appearance, but his one weakness is that he can't ride in an airplane or boat due to a childhood trauma. Because of his phobia, Yoo-Jin is unable to travel to Europe to learn conducting even though he badly wants to become a conductor.

One day, Yoo-Jin gets drunk and falls asleep on the doorstep of Nae-II (Shim Eun-Kyung). She lives next door to Yoo-Jin. The next morning, he wakes up and finds himself in a room full of trash and he sees Nae-II. Nae-II falls in love with him and follows him around. Nae-II is also a piano major and takes lessons from Professor Ahn Gun-Sung (Namgung Yeon). Yoo-Jin is soon assigned to take lessons from Professor Ahn Gun-Sung as well. His arrogance has led him to take lessons from Professor Ahn Gun-Sung rather than Professor Do Gang-Jae (Lee Byung-Joon) who is renown for instructing many famous pianists. Professor Ahn Gun-Sung then assigns Yoo-Jin to perform a piano duet with Nae-II. At first, Yoo-Jin insists that Nae-II follows his instructions, but he soon changes and accepts her way to play the piano.

Yoo-Jin then hears that world-famous conductor Franz Stresemann (Baek Yoon-Sik) will be coming to his university. Yoo-Jin is ecstatic, because he can learn from Franz Stresemann without going to Europe. Yoo-Jin is unaware though that Franz Stresemann dislikes his father and his famous childhood musical instructor Vieira.

The first romantic human comedy happening in the female military! Shoveling Romance of female soldiers with dignity-

This TV series begins from 2018, which is 10 years after the passage of the bill above. If, all the people in South Korea including women had to equally serve in the military for national security, what would it be like? Young people leaving their dreams and passion behind for a while, become "soldiers", and have to spend one-fifth of their twenties in the army! This TV show is about the youths' romance story while they're performing their military duties.

There's one well known mobilization reserve division that trains female soldiers, and it discharged over ten thousand soldiers during the past 10 years. In this place, there's one private first class captain named Cha Song Joo who has a great training records but also has a super fierce temperament. She has a normal family background but tried tenaciously for her success. She's a self-made woman well known for her fast promotion despite of her ROTC graduate certificate.

Then there comes another captain who graduated from America's OAC and has a huge elite military family but this captain--is a guy!! Family, School, the way of thinking etc--

Into the DMZ

비무장지대로

Documentary

Time/Units 52 min. x 1 UHD

The year 2019 is the 66th anniversary of the armistice of Korean War. Now we documented the lives of wild animals living in DMZ for the first time in the world while the expectation of reunifying two Koreas is increasingly heightened.

Into the DMZ

South Korea and North Korea are still confronting each other alongside Demilitarized Zone that was created after the signing of the armistice of Korean War in 1953. Even if many lives were lost in the area, it is now covered with many weeds and trees. It is the result of the war but ironically it is the home of many wild animals. Let's find the real lives of wild animals in the DMZ opening the gate to the area.

What kind of messages do the animals of DMZ give to us?

We open the real lives of wild animals in DMZ for the first time.

Okavango, The River that Doesn't Flow

흐르지 않는 강

Documentary

Time/Units 54 min. x 1 UHD

It rains in Angola three times a year.

The rain flows 1,600 kilometers and creates a huge delta, the Okavango, in the Botswana desert, instead of flowing into the sea. The Okavango Delta, which serves as a life-giving water for animals during Africa's driest season. The Okavango, which has protected animals for the past 2 million years, is now suffering from a drought. The river that used to flood the Kalahari Desert 20 years ago has now dried up, and only a few very small areas are submerged. In addition, due to the chronic water shortage in Africa, the Okavango River, which crosses several borders, is a water resource for many countries and is part of conflicts such as the construction of waterways. In this way, human selfishness also has a negative impact on the cycle of nature. Although the exact root cause has not been identified, the number of wild animals in the Okavango is decreasing. Join the Okavango wildlife on their perilous journey as they grapple with a severe drought.

Soul of Asia, Ottchil

아시아의 영혼, 옷칠

Documentary

Time/Units 52 min. x 2 UHD

Subject and Theme

Subject: Ottchil

Theme: When Ottchil is varnished on household items, furniture or paintings, they become immortal to be preserved for the millennia without being transformed. The preservation capability of Ottchil is scientifically analyzed and breath of oriental artisans who continue the culture of Ottchil is explored.

Have you ever seen a Ottchil art work? I firmly believe that it is difficult to avert eyes once you have a look at it. It is a natural paint obtained from sap of natural Ottchil tree which is native to Asia. There are only four countries that make artworks with natural Ottchil even in the East. Ottchil art is a very special culture. Korea, China, Japan, and Vietnam have developed their own Ottchil arts with originality.

It is found that Ottchil kept Tripitaka Koreana, the complete collection of Buddhist scriptures carved on over eighty thousand wood blocks, which boasts a history of more than 750 years, from corrosion and maintained its shape for a long time. Ottchil is worth noting not only because it is beautiful but also because it has many functional aspects. It is said that properly painted Ottchil makes things live forever. In modern times, it has attracted attention not only as an art but also as a functional paint through various experiments and researches. Ottchil is also excellent for expressing deep and rich colors. Therefore, there are a lot of artisans who devoted themselves to Ottchil art for a lifetime because they are attracted by the charm of Ottchil even though it is a work requiring huge labor.

Breath of Tradition

전통의 숨결

Documentary

Part 1-Camel, a Run in the Desert
Time/Units 52 min. UHD

Camel racing is a deep-rooted traditional sport reflecting the desert culture of the Arabian Peninsula, and was widely practiced in North Africa, the Middle East, and desert regions. Originally held irregularly for events such as weddings and festivals, it has recently become a popular sport held year-round in oil-producing countries in the Middle East, such as the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, and Sudan.

Part 2- Meeting of sky and the ground, falconry
Time/Units 52 min. UHD

Falcon that majestically fly up into the sky and descends rapidly to snatch their prey, falconry is one of the most popular sports in the Arab world. This hunting game, coupled with Dubai's culture, has evolved into a sport for the royal family as an essential element of desert life. 'Falconry' is a traditional hunting method that tames the falcon or raptor to catch the preys in the wild. Falconry is part of the traditional culture. In Middle East, veterinary for falcon is thriving; they even have passports for falcon. Through falconry, Middle East's veterinary technology experienced development and mastered their artificial breeding techniques. Enter the Arab culture that were created through falconry.

Part 3- Pride of Nation, Taekwondo
Time/Units 50 min. UHD

Taekwondo is a traditional Korean martial art. Soobahkdo of Three States period and Goryeo became Taekkyeon during post-mid Joseon Dynasty; this became Taekwondo after liberation. Taekwondo is a systemized natural spontaneous speculation of self-defense, the human instinct.

The life of the Korean people have always been closely connected to mountains. It is difficult to speak about life, culture and national policy without speaking about its mountains.

During the turmoil of the 20th century, when the people went through oppression, the mountains suffered too.

Our mountains became bare and lost its original name. But, the strength of the Korean people who loved the mountains, recovered its origin. "The history of mountains is the history of our nation!"

- AI Generated long-form Feature Film
- Volume : 67min
- Genre : Mystery
- Original IP : Based on same named historical best-seller novel
by Lee Sang-hoon
- Premiere : 2026.05.21
- Synopsis: Jang Yeong-sil, a brilliant scientist, rose from the status of a slave to a high-ranking official (Junior Third Rank) thanks to King Sejong's favor, only to vanish completely from history following the "palanquin incident" of 1442. Where did he go? The story begins in 20th-century London, where a painting by Rubens titled Man in Hanbok appears at a Christie's auction. The identity of the mysterious Asian figure depicted by Rubens traces back to the era of King Sejong in the 15th century. Despite his slave status, the intellectually gifted Jang Yeong-sil faced a crisis when the Ming Dynasty demanded he either be killed or sent to China. With King Sejong's assistance, he traveled to Europe alongside the Ming explorer Admiral Zheng He and met the Pope; however, the Pope branded him a heretic for believing the Earth was round and ordered his execution. Escaping the Pope's grasp and fleeing alone to Florence, Jang Yeong-sil encountered a seven-year-old Leonardo da Vinci, and together they began researching a flying machine known as the Bicha...

Small town in Chuncheon.

Tao(Sungmo), who has a severe linguistic disability with brain tumor surgery, is playing the piano at his grandfather's piano store and helping him work. Once upon a time, Inha(Jin Se-yeon) was the best singer, but she dropped out of sight due to her illness, and dropped down to Chuncheon to give up her medical treatment. Tao falls in love with Inha. Tao can not talk and can not reach, so she just plays the piano and expresses her mind every time she goes past the store.

By accident, Tao plays a piano on the song of Inha, and Inha opens heart to Tao little by little. But next to her is Inha's old lover and duet partner Rommie(Jihyuk), and Inha goes back to Seoul after Rommie.

Can Tao confess his mind to the inha? Could Rommie get the heart down? To whom will the mind of Inha be directed?

The love story of Tao, Inha and Rommie begins with a beautiful piano melody.
